

Michaelmas Term 2020

Immunology and Medicine Webinars

Date	Time (BST)	Seminar title	Speaker's name & institute	Host
16-Oct	13:00- 14:00	Dynamic regulation of hypoxia-inducible factor-1 α activity is essential for normal B cell development.	Natalie Burrows, University of Cambridge	Menna Clatworthy
23-Oct	13:00- 14:00	Tissue-specific features of human innate lymphoid cells	Jenny Mjosberg, Karolinska Institute	Tim Halim
30-Oct	N/A	N/A	N/A	N/A
06-Nov	13:00- 14:00	Mitochondrial dynamics fine-tunes T cell exhaustion	Ping-Chih Ho, University of Lausanne	Christoph Hess
13-Nov	N/A	N/A	N/A	N/A
20-Nov	13:00- 14:00	Influence of vaccine on the evolution of Corynebacterium diphtheriae	Vartul Sangal, Northumbria University	Ankur Mutreja
27-Nov	13:00- 14:00	Tissue resident CD4 T cells: division of labor in the lung	Carolyn King, University of Basel	Michelle Linterman
04-Dec	13:00- 14:00	Persistent asymptomatic malaria in the dry season: host control or parasite ploy? In partnership with Cambridge Infectious Diseases IRC	Peter Crompton, National Institute of Allergy and Infectious Diseases	Georgie Bowyer
11-Dec	13:00- 14:00	RIG-I-like receptors: assembly, action & clearance of the signalosome	Sun Hur, Harvard University	Yorgo Modis

Organiser: Dr Maryam Arasteh

Sponsored by:

Email: enquiries@immunology.cam.ac.uk

Last revised: 05/02/2021

Cambridge Biomedical Campus map

<https://www.immunology.cam.ac.uk/directions>

Programme also at

<https://www.immunology.cam.ac.uk/immunologyinferences/immunology-and-medicine-webinar-series>